RACE CARDS

Fairplay Fancied for Penrhyn Cup at Hurst Park

By BOUVERIE
WHAT happened at Epsom and what may happen at Ascot, particularly in view of Omaha's Kempton victory over Bobsleigh, are turf topics swept aside today by the holiday meetings.

Huge crowds will "go racing" at Hurst Park, Redcar and Wolverhampton. Jumping still lingers on. Later on, Manchester's "Whit-week" will continue the round and sufficient holidaymakers will be at Yarmouth to keep the festive spirit alive.

Much wanted rain fell in most parts of the country on Saturday. Trainers are hoping for still more, but they are the only people who will be pleased if the sun does not shine all day to-day.

Hurst Park's big attraction is the Penrhyn Cup, a three-year-old handicap which will attract Fairplay, Calder and Orangeman among other useful horses.

I am assured that the last named is going to take a lot of beating in the Omaha colours, but I prefer Fairplay whose consistency deserves a winning turn.

Smart Two-Year-Olds
 If Rustom Mahal turns out for the Sorrel Plate this Beckhampton filly will probably make a winning debut. In her absence, Lacrosse may be good enough. She also has the reputation of being "very useful."

Noble Turk—eight lengths in front of Flares on his last appearance, and unbeaten this season—should carry on the good work in the Davis Stakes, and I like the chance of Achtung in the Holiday Handicap.

Wolverhampton's chief prize is the Holiday Handicap, a race won last year by Sheldrake. Mr. Blagrave's horse is in to-day with 5 lbs. less than he carried on that occasion, and he proved himself in form when narrowly beaten at Bath.

Guinea Ly and Caymanas both look dangerous, but I like nothing better than Sheldrake at the weights.

Over looks like getting a winning turn in the Whitsuntide Handicap, and Old Riley is surely still good enough to win a seller like the Penkridge Plate.

Revelation has progressed since winning at Haydock, but a better proposition for the Saltburn Handicap at Redcar may be Earl of Cumberland.

Although unplaced at Chester, he ran well in the race won by Greek Abbot.

There is little to choose between Headmaster and Aylward for the Marske Plate. Aylward has won two of his four races this season, but Headmaster also has been running very consistently and at the weights should not be made a loser.

'Ware Omaha
 Obviously we must sit up and take notice of Omaha's bid for the Ascot Gold Cup—even if the great Brantome failed.

The official verdict in Omaha's favour on Saturday was only a neck, but I suspected that Pat Beasley had a bit more up his sleeve. And Bobsleigh was receiving 7 lb.

The fact that it was a slowly run race spoilt the affair somewhat as an Ascot test, but it favoured one no more than the other.

Omaha (right) challenging Bobsleigh for the lead in the Queen's Plate at Kempton Park.

News from the Stables

NEWMARKET, Sunday.
 It is very doubtful if C. Leader or Frank Butters will be represented in the Penrhyn Cup at Hurst Park.

Dancing Comet and Impression have their full share of weight to carry, but they are at their best.

Orangeman may be sent to the meeting by motor horse box, and he will require beating. Calder is a winner this season, and as he will represent Jack Jarvis I shall take him to win.

At Wolverhampton Caymanas should be noted for the Holiday Handicap, and at Redcar Earl of Cumberland will require beating in the Saltburn Handicap. HEATHMAN.

You Should Know That—

Steve Donoghue very rarely objects. He did so at Kempton on Saturday, and the race was awarded to his mount.

Donoghue also won on Canard. Seragevo filly delivered a strong challenge, but was beaten by a short head.

N. Styth won on La Courcelle at Pontefract, despite the saddle slipping from underneath him some distance from the finish.

Danger swerved at the start of the Park Hill T.Y.O. Plate and lost several lengths.

Couleur de Rose came well on the scene near the end of the Juvenile Selling Plate, but was beaten by three parts of a length.

Scotch Johnny was baulked in running in the Alexandra Handicap, and never recovered.

'Chasing at Cardiff

Useful fields are expected to-day at Cardiff, and only fine weather is required to ensure a big gathering of racegoers. Selections:—
 2.30.—Tom Oliver, 4.0.—Scotch House.
 3.0.—Blue Pigeon, 4.30.—Tornore.
 3.30.—West Kent, 5.0.—Last of the Hapsburgs.
